

AUTOS AT DOCK TO MEET NOTED EVANGELISTS

Brown and Curry Will Be Taken to W. A. Bowen Home; Begin Tomorrow Night

When Brown and Curry, the noted evangelists, land from the steamer Manoa tomorrow afternoon about 4 o'clock, they will be met at the dock by the entire executive committee in charge of the revival services to be conducted here.

Automobiles will be provided to take the arrivals at once to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen, where they will be quartered during their stay in Honolulu.

The series of meetings will begin tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at Central Union church, despite the late arrival of the steamer which was due early tomorrow morning, but will come in many hours late. Members of the executive committee, who will tender a formal welcome to the evangelists, are W. A. Bowen, Rev. A. A. Eberole, A. E. Larimer, Rev. L. L. Looftbour, D. C. Peters, Rev. W. E. Peitch and William Waterhouse.

This morning a special committee of five women, with Mrs. Theodore Richards as chairman, representing Central Union church, was formed to take charge of the special day meetings which will be held at 10 o'clock each morning at Central Union. The other four members of the committee are Mrs. A. L. Andrews of Central Union, Mrs. E. A. Cooper of the First Methodist church, Miss Olive Hopper of the Christian church and Colonel Blanche Cox of the Salvation Army.

Preparation for the coming of the evangelists, a meeting was held in the parish house of Central Union church last night by the young people's societies of the various co-operating churches. W. A. Bowen, chairman of the executive committee of the campaign, presided. Nearly 200 young people were present. A letter from Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the Christian Endeavor of the World, who is in Honolulu for his health, urged the young people to put forth every effort to make the coming campaign a success.

Brief addresses were given by Hugh C. Rea for the Methodist Epworth League, Woods Peters for the Christian Church Endeavor Society, Mrs. J. P. Mellor for the Portuguese Evangelical, and A. E. Larimer for Central Union church. Col. E. B. Cox of the local Salvation Army, who is well acquainted with the work of Evangelists Brown and Curry, told of some of their former campaigns. William Waterhouse, advance man for the evangelists, also spoke.

An appeal for 30 or 40 men to act as ushers during the campaign was made by Frank C. and Charles H. Alkerton, who are in charge of this phase of the campaign. Forty more singers for the choir of 100 voices were asked for by Philip Hall.

The three chapters of the Order of Eastern Star of this city will hold a reception this evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Williams, Nuuanu street, in honor of Mrs. Mills, most grand worthy matron of the order, who is visiting in Hawaii for a few weeks.

I will bet that if I ever get to heaven that St. Peter will hand me a harp for sure, because that's about all I have been doing on this earth—harping about clothes—and suits such as we sell here for as low as $15.00. I can remember when you couldn't buy a ready-to-wear suit for less than $20. I don't call the $10 and less suits ready-to-wear clothes because you can't wear one of 'em long enough to get inside of it, and if you do you can't count on staying in. Come in and take a good look at our clothes, says WILLIE THE OFFICE BOY, with

NEW ORDINANCE TO PUT STOP TO BAD FISH SALES

Supervisor Ahia Finds That Shocking Conditions Prevail and Plans Remedy

Supervisor William Ahia, chairman of the committee on sanitation and health, is out after fish peddlers who are working off old and decayed fish upon their customers.

Ahia has an amendment to the fish ordinance now under the scrutiny of the city attorney's department which will come up for reading at the meeting on Thursday night probably, or at least in the near future.

In his rounds as chairman of the sanitation committee Ahia has come upon sights which are revolting. He has seen fish being sold when in a state of decay which rendered them soft enough to allow a finger to be thrust through them.

"I know positively," Ahia says, "that there are quite a number of fish vendors about town who are taking home fish that they have left over at night, then going down after fresh fish in the morning to take home and mix with the stale ones. After this all of the fish are put on the market together."

It is this practice that the chairman of the sanitation committee is trying to abolish. To do so he will insist in his ordinance upon a careful counting of fish at the time they are purchased, when they are offered for sale, and also the number left over at the end of the day.

Some of the special points of the ordinance are as follows: "All fish left unsold by any peddler, or at any market, at 6 o'clock p. m. on the evening of any day shall be inspected by the fish inspector, and if found in proper condition may be placed in cold storage. Such fish on being again offered for sale shall be labeled, 'iced fish.'"

"All fish and other marine products offered for sale in the district of Honolulu, city and county of Honolulu, shall, before being exposed or offered for sale either by peddlers or at any market, be inspected by the fish inspector at some place in the city of Honolulu, of which place the city and county physician shall give public notice."

"The fish inspector shall issue to each peddler or vender of fish a certificate stating the time at which such inspection was made, and the number or quantity of each kind of fish or other marine product so inspected."

The ordinance further provides that all vehicles, street stalls or stands shall be entirely proof from flies and other insects, and from dust and dirt. Ahia is heartily in favor of the recent campaign of inspection which the Anti-Tuberculosis League has held in restaurants of the city. He says that he is in favor of some means whereby men may be hired by the city to make daily inspections.

School children are in much danger from the Oriental fruit carts and stands he believes. In trips he has made to these different places located near the schools he has seen apples in the last stages of decay offered for sale cheap, and bought by the children, who favored getting quantity rather than quality.

"Bread sold at these places is also often unfit to eat," he says. "Just recently, for instance, I found in a piece of bread a portion of a centipede that had been cooked in with it in the making. Yet hundreds of school children are allowed to run there at the noon recess, and with a hastily concocted glass of pink milk shake, wash down the noonday lunch."

That the plant of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company, not including the real estate, has depreciated in value to the extent of 51 1/2 per cent since the organization of the company, is the opinion of Giles H. Gere, superintendent of the Bishop Estate and former city and county engineer, according to testimony given by him this morning during the trial of the territory's injunction suit against the Rapid Transit.

Mr. Gere was called as a witness for the territory, the entire morning having been given over to a series of questions on direct examination. The conclusions upon which he based his opinion, he said, were reached from authorities and also from a personal investigation and inspection of the various units of the Rapid Transit's system. Mr. Gere was to be cross-examined by the Rapid Transit attorneys this afternoon.

NO DATE IS FIXED FOR METHODIST CONFERENCE
Until Bishop Hughes of California gives notice regarding when he can come to Honolulu, no date will be set for the annual conference of the Methodist missions in Hawaii, according to notice given today by Rev. L. L. Looftbour, pastor of the Methodist church. The bishop has informed the church that he does not know just when he will be able to visit here, and it is possible that the conference will not be held until after the first of the new year.

Hawaii Pupils Will Do Homage To Mark Twain

Special Day In Honor of Great Humorist to Be Observed in Schools Tomorrow

Superintendent of Schools Henry W. Kinney has announced that all of the public schools in Hawaii will observe Mark Twain Day tomorrow. The programs in the various schools will consist of readings of a number of Twain's stories, and the great author's prose poem on Hawaii will be featured. Each school will have a different feature and many of the teachers will read a story of the life of the famous writer.

Locally the book stores will feature Twain's books and "Huckleberry Finn," "Innocents Abroad" and other works will have a prominent place on the shelves and in the windows. Students in the city will be asked to recite the prose poem on Hawaii from memory.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee has received many letters from educators of the mainland stating that the people of their section will be glad to cooperate with Hawaii in making the day a big success. Missouri, Nevada and Oklahoma will have special programs in all of the schools and there will be a special program at the Hawaii building at the San Francisco exposition.

day of next week the bureau will make an investigation of the Kalihi-waena school.

ARREST MAN WHO COMES TO BAIL LABORERS OUT

Chang Chau, who conducts a pig ranch at Wahiawa, entered a severe protest with Marshal J. J. Smiddy on Saturday night because two of his helpers, Ah Fook and Ah Poon, had been arrested by the federal authorities, and consequently there was no one at Wahiawa to feed Chang Chau's pigs.

Chang pestered the marshal with telephone calls, saying that he wanted to come to Honolulu and "bail out" his helpers. Finally the marshal told him to come ahead, and when the Chinese walked into the office, Marshal Smiddy presented him with a warrant for arrest and took him into custody on a charge of buying government property.

Police Officer Gray, who resides at Wahiawa, arrested Fook and Poon on Saturday afternoon and brought them to Honolulu. The charge against them was similar to that against Chang Chau.

According to the federal officials, it is believed by them that the three Chinese at the pig ranch have been purchasing hay, grain and feed in wholesale quantities, which produce has been stolen at frequent intervals from Schofield Barracks by persons from whom the Chinese made their purchases.

Chang Chau has been released on bond in the sum of $1000. Ah Fook and Ah Poon have been released on bail in the sum of $500 each.

THIS AFTERNOON

The first work of the manual training class of the Y. M. C. A., begins this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The students were told to gather in the basement, where 10 benches with all of the necessary equipment for their work has been secured. The first work was designed as a practical lesson in carpenter work. The students will be asked to make a number of articles that may be used for Christmas presents for their parents. Later it is expected that baseball bats and surfboards will be constructed by the class.
